Here's what you can look forward to

Tribal State & Federal Summit is back!! We hope you can join us. This year we are providing an opportunity for all service providers and community members to be aware of and practice being trauma-informed with those around you or seeking help from you. You will hear from systems and indigenous points of view or experiences regarding impacts of systems and healing. Join us for an incredible journey of tribal nation's continual survival despite sexual violence with viewing of Sisters Rising. We will hear from state entities about their work towards accountability regarding protections orders and current endeavors of meaningful inclusion of their grantees.
